The Multidimensional Human: Portals for Transformation

In this interactive session we will explore the energy based multidimensional model of William Tiller, PhD, and what it contributes to our understanding of personal and planetary transformation. Tiller's model is widely used among researchers of subtle energy phenomena and serves as a foundational model for understanding the human within a larger energy based framework, extending incrementally from the individual all the way to the universal levels.

This is relevant to the conference theme as a science based model of subtle energies that has significant explanatory value in terms of understanding an array of energy modalities that extend far beyond talk therapy and provide potent tools for transformation. It has pragmatic value in substantiating a range of EP-based methods.

Participants will discover how a seamless flow of energy refracts into four frequency domains, the energy bodies, and how to work with those domains for optimal transformation. Implications of this interconnected model will be discussed. Included will be effective energy based methods for enacting healing by using energy based technologies of the self (not in the mechanistic sense but rather in the sense of scientific applications).
